HOW TO WATCH

You can join in with Virtually Keswick Convention on any device that you like:

Your smart TV, laptop, tablet or phone

- Audio – if you are struggling to hear through the internal speakers when the volume is at full (both on the video itself and on the computer) then try watching with headphones, an external speaker, dock or amplifier. These can be used through a jack to jack cable, depending on your technology.

- Visual – using an HDMI cable from the computer to your TV or a projector can give you the full screen experience! Check your TV and computer have the right sockets before purchasing a cable.

On a smaller device

You can watch on a smartphone or tablet in just the same way, again, an external speaker may help, and prop it up so you can go hands free and relax.

On your TV

Newer TVs can access YouTube directly and you can watch everything from there. Newer smart TVs can usually show what is on your smaller device with screen casting or mirroring.

Help

There is loads of technical help available on the internet.

If you think you'll need guidance, get ready in advance. YouTube itself has 'How-to' videos on just about everything. You can search there, or on Google.

Be direct in the search box. Here are some examples:

How do I get YouTube on my Samsung Smart TV?

What's the best speaker to use with my laptop?

What cable do I need for Macbook to LG TV?

How to stream my iPad onto my TV?

There's loads of ways you can get involved.

We'd love to hear from you!
